

Ann Debaere, Project Manager, Flanders District of Creativity vzw

Ann graduated from the University of Leuven in 2002 with a degree in applied economics. After completing her studies, Ann started to work as a Client Representative at IBM in Brussels. After 2 years, she was promoted to the position of European Conference Project Manager where she was responsible for organising 5 European conferences a year. After 5 years at IBM,

Ann joined the Flanders District of Creativity team as Project Manager where she was amongst other things responsible for the organisation of the Creativity World Forum. A renowned conference aimed at inspiring creativity to a business, academic and political audience. Since January 2009, Ann started her own company 'Room to Inspire' where she helps organisations set up innovative and inspirational seminars and conferences.